Note in register by Rector.

By an Act of Parliament for the prevention of clandestine marriages, future entries of marriages shall be made in a particular register to be provided and kept for that sole use and purpose – the further account of marriages therefore henceforward must be looked for in such marriage register.

NOTE - LWD

The Act of Parliament referred to was the Marriage Act, 1753 (26.Geo.II.c.,33) which came into effect on 25 March 1754. This required marriages to be conducted in church and by an Anglican priest. There was a requirement for banns or a licence and persons under 21 years of age had to get parental consent.
